Welcome and Introduction

Welcome to our Fall 2019 EPIC Expo! This one-day event celebrates scholarship from Earlham community members that occurred during the summer. These summer experiences provide career-discerning opportunities for students as they connect the classroom to the world beyond the classroom. Today, community members will share these experiences via panel sessions, poster presentations, performances, and other media.

Funding Sources

EPIC Advantage
The EPIC Advantage provides a funded internship, student-faculty research project, or student-faculty collaboration with a community partner to every student.

Summer Collaborative Research
Summer student-faculty collaborative research experiences have been offered on-and off-campus since 1988 thanks to generous funding from alumni, faculty, and foundation donors.

Freeman Foundation
The Freeman Foundation supports internship experiences in East and Southeast Asia for U.S. Citizens and permanent residents.

Richmond Residency
The Richmond Residency program supports internships experiences in the Richmond and Whitewater Valley regions, primarily with nonprofit organizations.

Bonner Scholars Summer of Service

Center for Global Health Internship Program
The Center for Global Health internship program supports health-focused internship and research experiences at major research institutions across the country.

Earlham Network Partners
The Center for Global and Career Education works to build strategic relationships with employers that offer robust internship experiences and supports them in identifying Earlham students to fill them.

McNair Foundation

Community Session

1. A Reading of “The Secret of the Soap and Spin” by Jonathan Graham
   Location: Wilkinson Theatre

   Presenters
   Cameron Woddy, Theo Merback, Ellie Gelser, Brianna Miller, Akilah Hartgrove, Micaela Levesque, Jonathan Graham

   Notes
   This semester’s THEA 382 (Theatre for Young Audiences) class will present a reading and discussion of an original play by their instructor, Jonathan Graham. “The Secret of the Soap and Spin” concerns a 10-year-old named Vic who is hanging out at the laundromat with his mom when she goes missing. He discovers an out-of-order dryer that is a portal to strange underworld where inanimate objects like Lint and Mop are alive and speaking in verse. Vic goes on a quest to find his mother and bring her back to reality — a task that is more complicated than it first appears. A metaphorical take on the opioid crisis, the play was first produced at Pollyanna Theatre in Austin, Texas. The students will perform the play and lead the audience in a brief post-performance discussion. This play is written for a family audience. Children elementary school age or older are welcome to attend.
