Students who intend to travel to present research at, or actively participate in, scholarly conferences from July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018 are invited to apply for assistance from the Student Scholarly Conference Travel Fund. Applications for funding should include a 1-2 page statement of the research being presented or the nature of conference participation, a description of the conference, a copy of the invitation to participate at the conference (if applicable), a current CV, and the names of at least two faculty references. Applications should be sent to Welling Hall, Academic Dean (academicdean@earlham.edu). Travel funding awards may be for any amount up to a maximum of $750 and may be used only to help defray actual travel expenses. Requests for funding must include a budget and an indication of other sources of funds and amounts of funding that are available to support attendance at the Conference. Available funding is limited, and funding cannot be guaranteed to all applicants. Preference in funding will be given to students making formal academic presentations, although requests to support other kinds of scholarly participation will be considered.

"Students can have funds from this research support only once during their years at Earlham."

Checklist:

□ 1-2 page statement of research being presented, or the nature of the conference participation

□ description of the conference

□ copy of the invitation to participate

□ current curriculum vitae

□ names of two faculty references

□ proposed budget

□ indication of other available funding to help cover expenses

Please note:

Students must submit receipts for all expenses incurred. As a condition of receiving a Student Scholarly Conference Travel Award, recipients will be expected to present a report of their experience, or share their research results, at a student research colloquium in the Spring.
