17-DAY HISTORY, CULTURE AND WILDLIFE EXPEDITION TO INDIA
January 18 – February 3, 2017
$5250 per person, double occupancy

All-inclusive from New Delhi
"So far as I am able to judge, nothing has been left undone, either by man or nature, to make India the most extraordinary country the sun visits on his rounds. Nothing seems to have been forgotten, nothing overlooked." - Mark Twain, from Following the Equator

It is impossible to be less than astonished by India. Nowhere on Earth does humanity present itself in such a dizzying, creative burst of cultures and religions, races and tongues. Perhaps the only thing more difficult than to be indifferent to this sub-continent would be to describe or understand it. This land of Kipling and Ghandi, evokes flights of imagination and curiosity, a canvas of spectacle and color. Five thousand years of history have nourished this great civilization but modern India is home to both the tribal, with its anachronistic lifestyle and the sophisticated urban jetsetter, a land where temple elephants exist amicably with the microchip. Here ancient monuments provide a backdrop for the world’s largest democracy: where atomic energy is generated and industrial development ranks the country amongst the world’s top nations. Though the country is rapidly urbanizing and modernizing, its culture is rooted in a worldview which recognizes humans a part of nature. The astounding complex of charismatic mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish and invertebrates which live and thrive here in close proximity are an integral part of the human culture. This profusion of races and cultures and the magnitude of these legacies, combine to make India the dynamic sub-continent we witness today.

Marie Cope Nicholson, ’76 EC graduate and biology major invites you to join her 16-day History, Culture and Wildlife expedition to India for an in-depth introduction to this amazing sub-continent.
After graduation Marie worked at Earlham for more than 20 years in alumni relations, admissions, the science library and as a faculty leader for off campus programs to Tanzania, New Zealand, Southwest Field Studies, St. John’s Virgin Islands and Mountain and Water Wilderness pre-terms. In addition she has had extensive travel experiences in other countries through Earlham’s educational travel programs. She says “I have benefited by exploring new places, not only to learn about their people, culture, history and wildlife, but for the unexpected opportunities that often arise. It’s these serendipitous moments I remember most: watching a cheetah stalk and kill an impala while on safari in Tanzania; stumbling on one of only three farmers in all of Japan who grow and know the secrets and art of making indigo dye; bartering goods with the Yagua Indians in the Peruvian Amazon, paddling the Whanganui River in New Zealand with our Maori guide and snorkeling with penguins in the Galapagos”.

Ever since Marie was assigned a Jr. High research paper regarding its diversity of cultures and languages, India has peaked her curiosity and been high on her “bucket list” of the destinations she would like to visit. This interest was piqued even more when, while living in Tanzania, she discovered how much the Indian culture has influenced the East African coast near Dar es Salam and Zanzibar. Recently, as she gets older and more concerned about her health, she has developed an interest in Indian food, spices, Ayurveda practices, yoga and how these ancient traditions contribute to the comprehensive health of the mind and body.

“This unique and fascinating travel program to India, designed by Richard (Dick) Mills, ’69 EC graduate and owner of World Discovery Safaris, provides an excellent vehicle for an in-depth, hands-on and educational opportunity for us to delve into the cultures, history and wildlife of India and offers many opportunities for serendipitous moments. I look forward to sharing them with you.”

DAY 2 – THURSDAY, JANUARY 19 - ARRIVE DELHI
Welcome to India! Delhi, the capital of the country and one of India's fastest growing cities, is really two cities. Old Delhi was the capital of Muslim India between the mid-17th and late 19th centuries, and is crowded with ancient monuments, forts and mosques. New Delhi is the product of the British Raj, with wide, tree-lined avenues and imposing government buildings. Remnants of a glorious past survive next to soaring skyscrapers, posh residential colonies and bustling commercial complexes. Rich in history, the myriad faces of the city lure the curious traveler into a fascinating journey of discovery. Upon arrival we meet our Indian guides and transfer to our deluxe rooms in the Claridges Hotel. Then it’s off to bed for some well-deserved sleep and opportunity to recover from our international flights.

DAY 3- FRIDAY, JANUARY 20 - DELHI
Following breakfast we begin a sightseeing tour of Old and New Delhi. There is much to see and we may start by visiting the Jama Masjid. This, the largest mosque in India, with a courtyard large enough for 25,000 worshippers, was built in the 17th century by the Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan. Humayun's Tomb was built in the mid-16th century by the senior wife of the second Mughal emperor. These structures are among the finest examples of Mughal architecture, elements of which were later used during the construction of the Taj Mahal. The 12th century Qutab Minar, at 240 feet, is the highest stone tower in India. It was built shortly after the fall of the last Hindu kingdom and stands as a minaret adjacent to the Quwwat-ul-Islam Masjid, the oldest mosque in India. Our tour includes a rickshaw ride along the narrow streets of the city and a “food frenzy” walk through the market where we’ll have an opportunity to see, smell and taste some of the food and spices for which the Indian sub-continent is rightfully famous. In the afternoon we drive past the main Government buildings in New Delhi, including the Rashtrapati Bhawan (The President's House), and the famous India Gate, a 160-foot high arch constructed to commemorate the 70,000 Indian soldiers who lost their lives in World War I. During the day we’ll also have the unique opportunity of visiting the descendants of Hakim Ajmal Khan for an introduction to the Ayurvedic and Unani medical practices. Our dinner and overnight accommodations are at the Claridges Hotel. B/L/D

Old Delhi pulses with the energy, color, hustle and bustle of thronged bazaars and is laced by a maze of narrow alleys which twist and turn between tall, leaning buildings full of the sights, sounds and aromas of the Indian subcontinent. Some of our transportation here will be in traditional rickshaws.

Hakim Ajmal Khan (1868-1927), an outstanding physician, is credited with the early 20th century revival of Unani, a traditional medical practice based on the teachings of Greek physicians Hippocrates and Galen. The university he founded offers programs and training in Ayurvedic and Unani medicine, which are based on the concept of balanced body humors. Although these may become unbalanced, causing disease, with diet, herbal remedies and mental focus, they can be brought back into balance, restoring the body to full health.

DAY 4 – SATURDAY, JANUARY 21 - DELHI / JAIPUR
In the morning we board our private coach and embark on the 5-6 hour drive to Jaipur. As soon as we depart our hotel we encounter traffic “India style” and quickly learn to appreciate the skill with which our driver navigates between and around cars, buses, trucks, tractors, feral cattle, rickshaws, camels, and pedestrians. Jaipur, the capital city of the state of Rajasthan, also known as "Pink City," owes its name, its foundations and planning to the great warrior astronomer Maharaja Jai Singh II. The city sits on a dry lakebed in a wild and somewhat arid landscape, surrounded by barren hills surmounted by fortresses and crenellated walls. After checking into our executive club rooms at the ITC Rajputana Hotel we visit the National Institute of Ayurveda which was established by the Government of India to develop a high standard of teaching, training and research in all aspects of the Ayurvedic System of Medicine with a scientific approach. B/L/D

DAY 5 – SUNDAY, JANUARY 22 - JAIPUR
Following breakfast we drive to the outskirts of Jaipur and walk through the grounds and structures of the Amber Fort which was originally constructed by a tribe called the Meenas and dedicated to “Amba” or the “Mother Goddess.” The present palace complex was initiated in 1592 under the reign of Raja Man Singh, commander of Akbar’s army and member of the emperor’s inner circle of nine courtiers. Over the next 150 years the fort was modified by successive rulers, until the Kachwahas shifted their capital to Jaipur during the time of Maharaja (a great or high king) Jai Singh II. We have the option of entering the fort either on foot or atop an elephant! The short steep ascent provides views of Jaipur, Maota Lake, and the original city walls. One of the fort’s most striking features is the Hall of Mirrors. When occupied by royalty, this hall could be lit, at night, by a single candle reflected in thousands of tiny, intricate mirrors. In the afternoon we visit Jantar Mantar; an open air astronomical observatory, and the Hawa Mahal ‘Palace of the Winds’ facade behind which the ladies of the court could watch the busy activities in the street below without being seen. Jaipur’s main focus is the huge City Palace complex, home to the Maharaja, where we’ll see the numerous rooms, formal gardens and the Maharaja’s fascinating museum, which includes his personal collection of weaponry, miniature paintings, royal attire and jewelry. We have the remainder of the day to shop and sightsee in this ancient city. In addition to its culture and history Jaipur is famous for its hand woven rugs, fabrics, gems, jewelry and handicrafts. Our accommodations and dinner are at the ITC Rajputana Hotel.

DAY 6 – MONDAY, JANUARY 23 - JAIPUR / AGRA

In the morning we depart for Agra, stopping en route to visit the ancient city of Fatehpur Sikri, an epic poem in red sandstone. Larger than London in its day, this capital of the Mughal Emperor Akbar was abruptly and mysteriously abandoned in 1586, some say because the city’s water supply ran dry. Legend tells us Akbar, concerned he had no male heir, consulted the Muslim seer Salim Chisiti who lived on a hill near Sikri. When the holy man’s prediction of three sons came true, Akbar decreed the city be built on the site of Chisiti’s tomb. In the afternoon we visit Agra’s Red Fort a massive structure with 70 foot high, 1.5 mile long walls encompassing an astounding collection of well-preserved buildings, many of them completed during the reign of Emperor Shah Jahan. In the evening we make a sunset visit to the Taj Mahal where our guides show us the best positions from which to get photos of this magnificent monument to love. Our dinner and overnight accommodations are at the ITC Hotel Mughal.

Taj Mahal: Little needs to be said about this architectural wonder, the raison-de-etre for every tourist’s visit to Agra. Built by Shah Jahan, the Taj is a white marble memorial to his beautiful wife Mumtaz Mahal. Designed and planned by the Persian architect Ustad Isa, it took 22 years for this monument to be completed. Apart from its stunning design balance and perfect symmetry, the Taj is also noted particularly for its elegant domes, intricately carved screens and some of the best inlay work ever seen.

DAY 7 – TUESDAY, JANUARY 24 - AGRA / JHANSI / ORCHHA / KHAJURAHO
Following breakfast at our hotel we transfer to the Agra Cantt Railway Station and board the express train to Jhansi (Bhopal Shatabdi dpts Agra at 8:11 AM and arrvs. Jhansi at 10:45 AM). From the train station we drive to the medieval city of Orchha, the grandeur of which has been captured in stone, frozen in time, a rich legacy to the ages. In this medieval city, the hand of time has rested lightly and the palaces and temples built by its Bundela rulers in the 16th and 17th centuries retain much of their pristine perfection. Complementing the noble proportions of their exteriors are interiors which represent the finest flowering of the Bundela School of painting. In the Laxmi Narayan Temple and Raj Mahal, vibrant murals encompassing a variety of religious and secular themes, bring the walls and ceilings to rich life. In the afternoon we drive to Khajuraho and check into our overnight accommodations at the Hotel Taj Chandela. B/L/D

DAY 8 – WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25 - KHAJURAHO / BANDHAVGARH NATIONAL PARK
In the morning we visit the famous erotic temples of Khajuraho. These 9th to 12th century temples give testimony to the architectural geniuses of the Chandela dynasty. Although Khajuraho was the capital of Chandela for a brief period, for most of its history this village is thought to have been a religious center.
There have been many theories regarding the sculptures adorning the facades and interiors of the Khajuraho temples. Some believe these temples to be centers of tantrik mysticism, which regards sex as an important part of human development and the attainment of the Absolute. Others believe they were constructed with the objective of luring men and women back to the family and the worldly life, an important aspect of Hinduism. For much of their recent history thick forests have surrounded the temples shielding them from outsiders. T. S. Burt, the British engineer who re-discovered the site in the mid-19th century, found the sculptures offensive. However, local villagers have regularly worshiped in these temples ever since they were constructed.

In the afternoon we drive to Bandhavgarh National Park. Set among the Vindhya Hills in the state of Madhya Pradesh, this national park consists of 168 square miles of sal and mixed forest with large stretches of bamboo and grassland. Once the private hunting preserve of the Rewa royal family, the area was established as a national park in 1968. The dramatic Bandhavgarh Fort lies as an ancient monument at the park's center, 1,000 feet above the surrounding countryside. Wildlife viewing excursions into the park are in open 4x4 vehicles and on walks led by our naturalist guides. In addition to wildlife excursions we have the option of visiting the fort. A 35-foot statue of the reclining Hindu god Vishnu, resting beside a rectangular pool of spring water, heads the path to the fort's imposing main gate. Morning and afternoon excursions take us to different locations in search of India’s unique wildlife, however, since India’s tiger reserves are closed to the public on Wednesday afternoons, we will join our naturalist guide for a nature walk today. Our overnight accommodations are at the Bandhavgarh Jungle Lodge. B/L/D

Bandhavgarh Jungle Lodge provides us with all amenities in a pleasantly rustic and scenically beautiful natural setting. The lodge is constructed in an “eco-friendly” way, with solar heaters and solar cookers that are used to prepare food. Buildings are constructed in the local style, using local materials. A resident naturalist is at our disposal to answer questions and guide us on nature walks during our stay.
DAYS 9 & 10 – THURSDAY & FRIDAY, JANUARY 26 & 27 – BANDHAVGARH NATIONAL PARK

In addition to its other wildlife Bandhavgarh is famous for the large tiger population it harbors. It was here that the famous white tigers of Rewa were discovered, the descendants of which can now be seen in zoos around the world. This color form is rare and although we will not see a white one, we should be able to locate normally colored tigers here, in their natural habitat. Other wildlife we may see include gaur (Indian bison), spotted deer or chital, chausingha (four-horned antelope), chinkara (another antelope species), nilgai or blue bull, wild boar, and if we are fortunate, a sloth bear or leopard. Some 150 bird species have been recorded, including the blue-bearded bee-eater, white-browed fantail and Malabar hornbill. Bandhavgarh is an ideal site to relax, amidst the scenic beauty of this fabulous nature preserve. Optional activities include nature walks, in the company of the resident naturalist and visit to a nearby village, to experience something of the life and culture of the local people. Our overnight accommodations are at the Bandhavgarh Jungle Lodge. B/L/D

DAY 11 – SATURDAY, JANUARY 28 - BANDHAVGARH / KANHA NATIONAL PARK

After breakfast we drive, through rural countryside and colorful towns and villages to Kanha National Park. At mid-day we stop for a picnic lunch before continuing on to the Mukki region of Kanha and our accommodations, for the next three nights, at Kanha Jungle Lodge. Nestled on an 11 acre estate of mature Sal forest, the Lodge has 19 spacious twin-bed rooms, with all the modern facilities, attached baths, hot and cold running water, and comfortable furniture. Its location, in the park’s buffer zone, allows us the freedom to walk and do a bit of exploring on our own. B/L/D

Kanha National Park: Located on The Chhota Nagpur Plateau in Madhya Pradesh, Kanha provides breathtaking vistas of grassy plains and strands sal forests. This 366 sq mile preserve was established to save the endangered tiger and barasingha. The park provides a protected habitat for a variety of species including tigers, leopards, cheetal, gaur, barking deer and sambhar.

DAYS 12, 13 & 14 – SUNDAY, MONDAY & TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 30 & 31 - KANHA NATIONAL PARK

Wildlife is most active early in the day and, to make the best use of our time, tea and coffee are served each morning before we depart. We may breakfast later in the field. Set on the Chota Nagpur Plateau, Kanha provides breathtaking vistas of grassy plains and stands of mixed sal/teak forest. The many streams that crisscross the park are edged by large groves of willowy bamboo. This vast 366 square mile preserve was set aside both as a tiger reserve and to protect one of the last remaining populations of the endangered barasingha. These beautiful deer are spectacular to watch as they graze in the forest meadows. In addition, Kanha is one of the best places to find the secretive Indian guar and the rare dhole or Indian hunting dog. Of the twenty-two species of mammals recorded in the park those most easily seen are tiger, Indian hare, Indian wild dog, stripped palm squirrel, common langur, jackal, wild pig, chital or spotted deer, barasingha or swamp deer, sambar and black buck. Just after sunset, with a wing span of 4 ½ feet, the Indian flying fox and world’s largest bat may be seen flying out to forage for ripe fruit and blooming flowers. With nearly 300 species, Kanha is also a bird watcher’s and a photographer’s paradise. The Indian roller and stork-billed kingfisher are two of the park’s most spectacular birds. Morning and afternoon game drives, from open jeeps and on elephant back (provided they are available), take us to various locations depending on where our guides think we have the best chance of seeing exceptional wildlife. During our visit we’ll participate in a cooking demonstration with Ms. Dimple Bhati. Gastronomy in India is a mouth-watering affair and during this experience we’ll work with her to create some traditional and local delicacies”. We’ll receive firsthand information regarding the techniques, ingredients and history of the dishes prepared and experience the best of Indian hospitality. While viewing the night sky, Ms. Dimple may introduce us to Indian astrology and the importance of the zodiac in the Hindu religion. She is also an expert regarding Kanha’s butterflies and dragon flies. B/L/D
