(n.) the college that will change your life so you can change the world.
Earlham is the best college you've never heard of.

But that's OK, because everyone else has:
U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT consistently ranks Earlham College among its Top 100 National Liberal Arts Colleges (84), Best Value Colleges (29) and Best Undergraduate Teaching experiences (28).

THE PRINCETON REVIEW ranks Earlham College as a "Best Classroom Experience," a "Best Value College," and as one of the "Best Schools for Making an Impact."

Great minds.
Teaching for good.
Challenge for your head. Purpose for your heart.

At Earlham, your professors will walk alongside you every step of the way to ensure that you can—and will—know what to do on your way to changing the world. Our faculty are fascinating, brilliant world-changers in their own right, and you’ll be on a first-name basis with each of them.

You read that right: we don’t use titles here, an intentional choice that hearkens back to our Quaker roots. Our faculty and students approach learning as a collaborative process. Don’t expect to sit in a lecture hall passively absorbing information—here, you’ll be asked to fully engage and to contribute your own inner knowledge and perspective to the classroom.

Before you even set foot on Earlham's campus, you begin what we call the EPIC Journey—an intentionally designed path through your college years and beyond that connects classroom learning to professional discernment, unparalleled internship and research opportunities, and meaningful ways to build leadership skills through athletics, student organizations and other co-curricular activities. You’ll graduate with the ability to articulate how all of these experiences have prepared you to thrive professionally and personally after Earlham.
The EPIC Advantage guarantees at least one fully funded career-discerning internship or research experience to every student, up to $5,000.
Four years. For life. For good.
An Earlham education prepares you for more than a job—it prepares you for a life well-lived. Our graduates live and work with purpose because they’ve had the mentorship of a deeply committed teaching faculty, the support of a caring community and experiences that can only come from the pairing of a globally oriented liberal arts education with hands-on problem solving.

We put The Heart in the Heartland.

THE HEART
Most colleges have a quad.
Earlham has The Heart.
Interested in the great outdoors? Take a hike on the miles of trails—or in the creeks—that wind through Earlham’s expansive back campus. In town, you can immerse yourself in nature at Cope Environmental Center or the Hayes Arboretum.

As the birthplace of recorded jazz, Richmond has a deep musical history. Additionally, it’s home to the second-oldest art museum in Indiana, the Richmond Symphony Orchestra, a summer Shakespeare festival and more cultural attractions.

Hungry to explore? Stop by Roscoe’s Coffee Bar and Tap Room, head to El Rodeo for authentic Mexican cuisine or order delivery from Gulzar’s, an Earlham favorite.

Our hometown, Richmond, is a small city that’s just a short drive from several major metropolitan areas and international airports—including Indianapolis, Dayton, Cincinnati and Chicago.

Richmond has plenty of opportunities for you to engage in community life—whether you’re looking for outdoor pursuits, a vibrant arts scene, great food or ways to volunteer in your new hometown.
Earlham was founded by Quakers. You know, those abolitionist, social justice-loving truth-seekers who, in the 18th and 19th centuries, had radical ideas like equal rights and public education.

Today, our global and inclusive community is made up of people from all faiths or none—but we still hold some of our founding values close to the heart. We call these our Principles and Practices: respect for persons, integrity, peace and justice, simplicity and community. They make for a distinctive, respectful and uncommonly engaged campus culture.

“As an international student, I never imagined I’d attend a small school in Indiana, but it’s one of the best decisions I’ve ever made.”

The good life.

From vegan selections and halal meat options in the dining hall, to gender non-binary housing opportunities, to supportive groups for students from a wide variety of backgrounds and identities, Earlham is focused on creating a living and learning environment where you feel welcomed, supported and safe. Your voice, your experience, your unique perspective on the world—these things matter. In fact, they define the Earlham experience.
LIVE IN GOOD COMPANY
Student housing options include traditional residence halls, apartments and houses dedicated to the shared interests of students who live there. Earlham does not have Greek organizations because we aspire to create one campus community that is open and welcoming to all.

LEAD IN GOOD COMPANY
Earlham student organizations cover a wide range—from the Center for Inclusive Gender Identities and the Buddhist Student Union to Cabaret Club and esports. And if you don’t see an organization that supports your needs and interests, you’re encouraged to make one for yourself.

PLAY IN GOOD COMPANY
Athletics are a huge—and fun—part of life at Earlham. Some 35 percent of our students are members of our 15 Division III teams, but even those who aren’t sporty love to cheer for the Quakers. Teams include men’s and women’s basketball, cross-country, track & field, lacrosse, soccer, golf, men’s baseball, women’s volleyball and women’s field hockey.
An education for good.
A great value.
95% of Earlham students receive some form of financial aid.

At Earlham, we recognize that your education is an investment—and we’re committed to delivering a quality liberal arts education at an affordable price. It’s why we’re consistently ranked a “Best Value” college by The Princeton Review.

Our healthy endowment and strong network of alumni and friends who believe in the value of an Earlham education make it possible for us to award significant aid to students like you.

Earlham offers merit, talent-based and special interest scholarships to high academic achievers, students interested in art, chemistry, community service and engagement, diversity leadership, music, theatre arts, Quakers—the list goes on!
